

How long has it got to live ?

Cartridge stylus have a limited useful life, everyone knows it. But how to keep track of it in a simple, unobtrusive way ?

The answer is the Timerette, the first fully automated playtime counter, able to be used with any turntable. Just place it near the platter rim and you're good to go.

Afterwards, at any moment, just press the View button to display the amount of played hours. No turning on or off needed. The Timerette is always ready and waiting for a spin.

- Starts and stops automatically
- Running time available at the touch of a key
- Running time always displayed whenever playing starts
- Long lasting battery life
